And is prepared to sell as good Ink, as any made in any part of the globe, and warranted to retain its beautiful jet black color which it has at the moment when used, at 50 p.% less than the same can be bought at any other houses.

People under the impression, that they pay their $20 mje. for a quart bottle of English Ink, can have the same proved, that most of the Ink sold for English, is made in this country, and imposed upon the public as such. But I am not ashamed to put my own Name on the labels, being fully convinced that my Ink is of a much superior quality, and 5 doesses more virtues than most of the Inks.

I—Ink is of a very rich black at the moment when used.

II.—Retains its color.

III—Runs freely off the pen.

IV.—A preserver of the eyes to those, who have much to write at night because they need not to force their eyes sight, to see what they have written.

For the reasons explained, I hope that my prejudice generally entertained against Home manufactures will be laid aside, and all I ask is, to try the same which will be a benefit to the industry of the country, in assisting Home Industry.

SUNDAY, APRIL 12, 1863.

HALF-YEARLY REPORT

OF THE

PROVINCIAL ANTI-REFORM COMMITTEE.

THE first half-yearly meeting of the above association took place at the Chambers, 96 calle Moreno, on——day—th inst. Dr. Foster in the chair. The honorable secretary read the following

"REPORT TO THE SHARE-HOLDERS"

Your committee cannot conceal the extraordinary sentiments of mingled satisfaction and regret which they experience on presenting their first and last half-yearly report of this Association. It is a source of self-gratulation that in so short a time they have entirely succeeded in preventing many startling reforms, so contrary to the spirit and object of their supporters. At the same time they regret that their labors and the existence of the Association have now drawn to a close; nor will your committee venture to predict the immense change consequent on such an event.

The currency question at first looked unpropitious, and fears were entertained that the foolish public would be led away by political reforms to demand the eradication of the Bank or at least some convertible money, whose fixed value would deprive the country of its leading industry and; some of our most disinterested citizens in pursuits of a grovelling, rustic, and material character. Happily your committee contrived, by means of delays and mystification, to divert the attention of the masses, a few trifling concessions had to be made, but the reform was lost sight of, and the currency is in the same satisfactory state, as regards your committee and their friends, the ounce-brokers and bank-directors.

The danger of an increase of population and rural wealth, throughout the camp, called for prompt and energetic action. Your committee judged their best remedy would be to double the price of public lands; by this means debarring an infinite number of unrefined persons, of the possibility to become estancieros, and obliging others to abandon the same manner of life. From a rise in the rent of land. Nevertheless it was necessary to yield to a popular prejudice in favor of improvements in the rural districts, and your Secretary drew up a flattering circular to the municipalities calling for information as to the wants and resources of the several partido's. Your committee calls attention to the favorable circumstance that in many cases the municipalities understood it was a joke and sent no reply. Some, however, went to unnecessary trouble in their reports, which were lately sold to a pipe-water speculator, being treated with the contempt they merited.

The case might have been sufficient, but for a disagreeable occurrence in the Guardia Monte, where two foreigners were killed or cut up by a gaucho of known skill and antecedents No mention was made of such a bagatelle in the official papers, but the English journal, a violent reformer, made an indecent noise about non-arrest &c, which obliged your committee to threaten severely the offender. The latter however, laughed at vengeance, and your committee, in order to still the clamor, solemnly promised the murderer's arrest, (which, meanwhile, never took place,) and commissioned an able lawyer to draw up a Rural Code, which your Committe is happy to say has not yet seen the light.

Your committee was not surprised that the same English reformer attempted to introduce cotton-planting, but they set their face strictly against his efforts. No notice was taken of an insolent courtesy on his part in sending round pamphlets to your committee, and with the aid of an intelligent native journalist, the name of the cotton-preacher was carefully kept from public view. Nevertheless it was obviously convenient to draw off the scent, and your committee reluctantly entered into the San Juan mining speculation, and got up a sensation about a small library for the University, although the Biblioteca is only 50 yards distant.

The Saladeristas not being amused with the Artesian bore, began to complain of their heavy contributions, and a dollar was added on the export of wool, to constitute a legal equality with sheep-farmers. Your committee mainly succeeded in extinguishing this unclean business, or at least transplanting the saladeros to the rivers Uruguay and Parana.

The courts of justice gave some difficulty, the Cabildo having a foul smell, and the Chamber of Commerce remaining without judges. The former was white-washed and the latter abolished, so that your committee is of opinion they resisted successfully any serious reform, in this item. The gas question also had a bad odour, but the complainants were not so rash as to go to law, and your committee believes it will end in smoke. The Sheridan and Zapiola suits are proof of the antique method still preserved in our courts.

Railways being essentially subversive of our anti-reform principles, your committee flatter themselves they have much retarded steam. The Northern line could not well be prevented, but when the vulgar clamored for a prolongation of the Western, your committee saw no alternative, but to purchase the line. Instead of gratifying the general whim by continuing the works your committee appointed a surveyor, who was deterred, by the thistles from making observations; and managed the part open to traffic in such a manner as to make railways highly unpopular and almost a nuisance. The wives who did not quite stifle it, and your committee regret to admit that they were lately compelled to a weakness in making some concessions to the concessionaire, who was nearly fined a million dollars for his reform tendencies. The electric telegraph to Montevideo proved, luckily, a failure.

The water-supply might have caused uneasiness, but that your committee sent the contractor back to the municipality and the project fell between two stools. Other local reforms were obviated in the same manner, as the new Capital law leaves the public in blissful ignorance of their guardians.

The recent elections were so animated that critics ventured to use unqualified terms such as, barbarous, brutal, bloody, mockery, humbug, disgrace &c. Your committee took an active part in the return, and confidently hope the traditional right of suffrage will be continued by the Legislature. This is the more important as an inestimable champion of anti-reform, himself concerned in these election-amenities, is one of the candidates so returned, and it is desirable that he should be permitted to defend as eloquently in the Senate-house, as in the press, our unalienable right to elect after the old fashion.

The demise of this association precludes the necessity of making out a balance-sheet, but the auctioneer's schedule of the proceeds of the late sale, already handed in, is interesting and truthful. Your committee having honorably mentioned the friends of the Association, thank them for their generous aid. The Secretary has been presented with a fancy smoking-cap and pair of slippers by his female admirers. The Auditors preserve a nicely-bound file of the Tribuna, as the annals of their official career. Before retiring to the bosom of their families, to contemplate with heroic fortitude the changes they anticipate, your committee would humbly suggest that brandy and lemons should be provided out of the proceeds of the auction, and given to all present.

The chairman proposed the adoption of the report, which was unanimously carried. Punch was introduced, a vote of thanks was proposed to each of the members, after the mode of the Mutual admiration Society, and the Association adjourned sine die, just as the senoras were singing "One o'clock, very hazy."

BANK FIRES.

It is worthy of notice that, on Friday last, over 4 millions of currency was burnt at the Bank, and yet on that very same day paper dollars, instead of increasing in value, depreciated to the extent of 5% to the doubloon. It is worthy of attention, also, that since these bank fires have commenced, some years ago, ounces have become dearer, and paper-money of less value. It is also a subject of no small comment, that notwithstanding the destruction of 44 millions, apparently there are as many paper dollars in circulation as before. These are strange but undeniable facts, and we look for some explanations from our gifted Provincial Finance Minister.

There are many persons who assert that of 5, 10 and 20 dollar notes, there are as many false as genuine ones in circulation, and we doubted the truth of this assertion for some time, but as at present situated, it seems that the scheme for increasing the value of the currency has utterly failed.

If there are so many of these forged notes as is rumoured, or if even there is probable cause for believing the story (which we assert there is), we consider that a most searching inquiry should be made into the whole matter, and the public informed what is the total amount of legal paper money in circulation.

Our city shopkeepers draw millions of one dollar notes out of the Bank during the year, for change for their customers. Few, if any of these contemptible evidences of debt find their way back to the Bank. After a short period, they become perfectly valueless, from use Thousands of bills, varying from 10 to 100, are lost, on account of the number of the note or signature being torn off. Yet, in the face of all this, and the continued depreciation of millions by fire, the paper dollar is steadily appreciating!

We think, therefore, that we are justified in saying that the currency system of this country is rotten at the core, and that unless the bank itself is burnt down, we have nothing to expect from these Bank fires.

Owing to the unhappy peculiarities of our Banking system, the public, and not the bank, is the loser in case of forgery. In Europe it is not so, nor should it be so here, if proper attention was paid to the subject; but unluckily men's minds are occupied with so many more important (?) subjects, that notwithstanding all we have said—every word of which has been reiterated by the President of the republic him-self—we are still in the same perplexing meshes of an anomalous mode, and apparently incalculable paper currency.

It is now perfectly clear that calculations as to the probable value of the ounce, are out of the question, even though the fires regularly take place in the presence of due and competent witnesses. We have burnt 44 millions, and ounces are at 431. When we have destroyed 40 millions more we suppose they will be at 450.

If ever there was an insolvent eating away, as it were, the vitals of a country, destroying trade, ruining commerce, and beggaring the citizens, it is that accursed paper currency of Buenos Ayres, which is alike a disgrace and an injury to the country in which it circulates.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS,

The second half-yearly custom's returns for 1861 are before us. It is to be regretted that these documents always come 16 months late, when the fourth of that period would be sufficient for their compilement and publication. The first half-yearly report for same year was made up with extraordinary clearness and detail, and furnished with instructive remarks based on the relative calculations. The volume just come to hand is much inferior, yet without a devoid of merit and interest. We regret, however, the returns of former years, to serve as a basis of comparison, and must therefore confine our notice to the year 1861.

The imports and exports from January to July were respectively 235 and 144 millions, or as 5 to 3—They were in the second half-year, 178 and 75 millions, or as 12 to 5,showing a falling off of 25 per cent imports and 48 per cent exports. This leaves a considerable balance of trade against us; the imports for the year being as 17 to 9 with the exports.

Import duties yielded 64 millions, of which nearly two-thirds fell to the first year, and in the 2nd return is included additional duty amounting to 3 quarters of a million. Imports have averaged 15 per cent duty on the official value: exports are taxed a little over 5 per cent.

In shipping, the N. American vessels are most numerous, being: arrivals 31,000 tons, sailings 12,000. The English come next in arrivals, the French in sailings. This is however no criterion of the trade: of 9,000 tonnage arrivals, 20,000 is from English ports, 18,000 from N. America and then follow Spain, Sweden, Brazil, Portugal and Italy. The tonnage of steamers with cargo for the same (2nd) half-year, is 64 thousand, of which France received 10, England 9, Belgium and Brazil each 7, Spain 6, U. States and Italy each 3, and Foreign ports 9. Vessels sailed in ballast 25 thousand tons, or nearly one-third of the whole. The American war no doubt was a principal cause, as nearly half this class were vessels carrying that flag.

Notwithstanding the immense decrease in exports and imports during the 2nd half year, the shipping returns actually exceeded those of the preceding six months, arrivals, in tonnage, being 20 per cent, and sailings with cargo 6 p$ over the first half-year This is a paradox, unless we suppose the vessels only carried half cargo.

The steam-packets were 79 in number, 12 running to Monte 10 to Paraguay, and 57 to Montevideo; showing a falling off of 38 on the previous half year.

Turning to the import-tables and comparing the first half-year with the second, we find decreases 37 p$, crinoline wire (not mentioned in the 1st) figures in a quarter of a million dollars 33 p$, cotton-goods 30 p$, cutlery is 3 p$ of the total imports, rice has diminished 10 p$, sugar has fallen from 1½ to 1 millions, tea have doubled, calico (not before stated) appears as 2 millions, coffee is diminished 25 p$, and shoes 40 p$ stand as 2½ of the imports. The consumption of cafia is the same, while all else diminishes, being more than double the value of the additional export duty. Carriages increased 20 p$ showing that luxury is in inverse ratio with trade. Carminos amount to 2 millions, and Tobacco 40 p$.

Cigars (not quite 2 millions) show a decline of 3 p$. Rockets have gone up 10 p$. Cognac has gone down in equal ratio. Lime-water is out only 1 has more than doubled one-half. Matting, formerly 260,000 $ is now only 660 $. Farina has nearly doubled. Iron, formerly 2 millions has doubled itself. Macaroni is about 2 millions, and wax matches 1 1/2 millions dols. Gin has fallen off 1 p$ and is now equal with cafia. Tinsel figures in an item of only 30,000 dols. Hen eggs appear 25 p$ less. Yerba shows a decrease, falling from 1½ millions. Bookcellers' wares have been slack, falling 70 p$. Lumber, formerly 8 1/2 millions seems lower, but the estimates for the 2nd half-year are unlisted. Furniture has increased 40 p$. Fire-arms, and playing-cards remain unchanged. Paper has fallen 10 p$; Perfumery, 25 p$, printing 70 p$, ready-made clothing 85 p$.

Salt gives 10 per cent less, but 5 lines 10 per cent more. Hats, on half straw, are valued at 2 millions, being a fall of 20 per cent. Paraguay hides fell from 112,000, to 89000. Tea also declined from 5 to 4 millions. Tea shows 35 per cent less; Saddlery, 50 per cent less. Soap, from 2½ millions, is reduced to 1½, just one-fifth our total imports. Zinc has fallen 30 per cent. Flour is more than doubled, being 7 millions in the second return.

From the above, it appears that imports fell considerably during the second half-year of 1861, and in almost equal ratio.

Taking the export tables, we find the wool enormously diminished, the season being past; the first half-year was 67 millions, the second 16 millions. The diminution of the maidens business is evident from the fall of 40 millions to less than 28 millions, in day and salted hides. Jerked beef also fell 15 per cent. Sheepskins have risen 150 per cent. Mares' hides have fallen 12 per cent. Tallow has fallen 40 per cent. Hair is 20 p$. less. Ostrich feathers have gone up 15 per cent. Live sheep fallen one-half. Bones and Bone ash gone up 50 per cent.

On the whole year we find our exports thus: wool, 40 per cent of the gross amount; dry hides, 20; salted hides, 12; mares' hides, 2; sheepskins, 3; jerked beef, 4; tallow, 13; hair, 3; ostrich feathers, 1 1/2. The wool- almost entirely from this province, was valued for 1861 at 84 millions of paper dollars.

DEATH OF AN IRISH HERO.

We regret to notice the demise of a patriarchal countryman, Mr Michael Hanly, of Cañuelas.

Mr Hanly had been a resident of this country for more than half a century, during which time, by untiring industry, he amassed an independent fortune, but it is not merely as a successful estanciero that we feel bound to make this obituary notice. Deceased had stood by Nelson at Trafalgar, struck down, and made himself conspicuous fighting in three engagements, under the British flag, in the American revolutionary wars He has passed from us not without sincerely regrette'd by all who enjoyed his acquaintance. As a dauntless Irish seaman, a courageous soldier, and an unwearied fellow-countryman, we pay this passing tribute of respect to his memory.

It ceased was a native of Wicklow, and was numbered among his friends by the characteristic epithet of "the Duke of Leinster. His remains were attended to the Recoleta cemetery, on Wednesday evening, by his numerous friends.

M. FECHTER.

M. Fechter is a Frenchman by education; and by birth. He can be known about as far east of the Princess's Theatre, as Tahiti was born west of it. If ever true that Tahiti was born in Hollis street, that Tahiti is entirely were French, and their native country was his. Mr. Fechter is not French in the sense his father being, we believe, a native of Germany. By education, indeed, the son became French. The school of sculpture was that in which he received training as an artist, and that is the one in which he has profitably passed his hours of leisure. As a professor, sculpture was early abandoned for the stage, where Mr. Fechter did not reach his present eminent position without severe discipline. He worked, rather than "played" in Italy. Before he was known in France; and passed his boyhood, but creditably, half student, half artist, in the Ecole des Beaux Arts, of which establishment he was member when he acted with distinction in the French version of Antigone, produced at the St. James's Theatre. Five years ago he created a sensation in Berlin, as he is now doing in London, and then removed to France, where critics placed their seal upon his fame, a fame that culminated by his original representation of Edmond Dantes, in Le Dame aux Camelias. In the play he combines the artist and the actor, as we understand both terms In the Fils de la Nuit, he had for the ever evil-disposed fiance formed so picturesque a portion of the drama; and in the "Belle Gabrielle," at the Porte St. Martin, his too great ardour precipitated him from a height with consequences which endangered his life. Thus, he has played in Italy, France, Germany, and England, the last being his native land, "foreign" to it, he became, as we have shown, but it is a misnomer, we think, to call Mr. Fechter as a "French-man."

MISCELLANEA.

THINGS FROM THE DEEP.—The following is a copy of a document found in a hermetically sealed bottle, which was picked up, almost embedded, in a shanting position, on the beach between Andrews and Helensburgh, on Tuesday afternoon. The writing is traced with pencil in a bold legible hand, on a sheet of common note paper, which in good part preserves its texture. There were several days of extremely boisterous weather about the date referred to, and if the doomed barque Ship had sunk with all hands, as we do not recollect of seeing any account of their rescue:

"On board the ship Schwarts. Husband, wife, commander, at sea about forty miles S.E. from Dublin; midnight, 17th December, 1862. Ship sprung a leak the 14th, a fearful gale blowing since yesterday evening; attempted to make for Dublin, but the rudder being carried away about three this morning, and our mainmast having also gone overboard, the noble ship became unmanageable; second mate and carpenter washed over board, as also our small boats. The united exertions of all hands, who are now in an exhausted state, have failed to keep the vessel from making water, and we must in a few hours at furthest sink, if no assistance come to our aid. God help us!—ANNA SCHWARTS, mate, native of Aberdeen."

ADVANTAGES OF SMOKING.—Commodore Wilkes, the American Hero of the Mason and Slidell capture, says a savage of the Fejee Islands told him that a ship, the hull of which was still visible, had formerly come ashore in a storm, and that the crew all fell into the hands of these cannibals. "What did you do with them?" asked Commodore Wilkes. "Killed em all," answered Feejee. "What did you do with them after you had killed them?" put in Wilkes. "Eat em—good;" replied Feejee. "And what you eat them all?" asked the half-sick Commodore. "Yes, we eat all but one," r plied Feejee. "And what did you spare that one?" inquired Wilkes. "Because he taste too much like tobacco; couldn't eat him no how," said the savage. I am told that the Arabs and Bedouins never suffer from the myriads of fleas and insects which swarm in their tents, owing entirely to their smoking tobacco.

—The O'Connell national Statue already acknowledged—£4,920 3 7

—In the town of Berger, in Prussia, a most elegant church, capable of holding 1,000 persons, constructed—statues and all—of papier mache.

—We have intelligence from St. Petersburg, that Duke William of Baden's marriage with Maria de Leuchtenberg came off on the 11th at Winter Palace, an incident that may have something bearing on the Greek difficulty.

—The ratifications of a treaty of commerce and navigation between Liberia and the United States were exchanged at Monrovia in January by Mr. Adams, the American minister, and the Council General for Liberia. The Washington govern ment has, until now, always held aloof from a step of this nature with a coloured community.

LOCAL EVENTS.

SALTO ORIENTAL.—The steamer Uruguay, commanded by an Oriental officer Sr. Escola has just performed the difficult feat of passing the cabo in the Uruguay river.

MUSICAL HUMBUG.—Several persons, who were at the Victoria theatre the night that this new instrument was played, have informed us that the whole performance was a hoax, the player-nesse ass undoubted talents, but the instrument was very de ective.

LANDS.—We are informed on good authority that a small piece of land in Belgrano, valued last year at 18,000 dollars, was sold a few days ago by auction at 48,500 $ Señor Cobos.

UNIVERSITY.—Pastor Obligado Junior rendered examination in jurisprudence before a board appointed and Mess Dardo Rocha and Juan Fermandez will shortly present theses for obtaining the degree of Doctors in law.

PLAZA RECTIFO.—It would be very convenient now that work is approaching to have bands of music during day time on holidays in this fashionable promenade.

Evenings are becoming shorter every day and our population requires that amusement.

FOREIGN PRESS.—It affords us much pleasure to think that we shall no longer be the only representative of foreign interests in Buenos Ayres. Yet a strange fatality cuts off most of the new colleagues whose appearance The Examiner was a misnomer, the Croix du Sud miscarried, the Press received a flattering notice from the Argentine Times; the Revista Europea and Commercial Times, after an honourable youth, succumbed. Lastly, two German papers appeared, but a personal menace to secure the editorships finished off one—or we believe both—ere many days of existence, and now we are promised a 3 m'weekly Italian paper to which we wish better fortune. The 'Standard' takes all newcomers by the hand: "the more the merrier."

THE TERCERO—Sr. Blanco Cañarriego is going to render an important service to people who live the other side of this river by building a bridge at his own expense in calle Suipacha between Temple and Cordoba which wash'thertc impassable in wet weather,

VIOLONIST.—Mr Paul Julius, an eminent musician, said to be superior to the famous Sivori, who visited us in 1850, is shortly expected from Brazil.

BELGRANO RACES.—To-day will come off the 2nd day of the Autumn meeting. The Northern Railway runs trains as on last Sunday.

BRITISH MAIL.—Will arrive probably on Monday morning, bringing us a third remittance of 500lbs of cotton on it. We will give more full supplements simultaneously with the "Tribuna," but five times the size of the letter.

WOOL.—The imports into the port of New York from Buenos Ayres during the second half of last year amounted to 2,565,2 lbs wash, if to this be added the quantities reshipped from England Germany and France it will be seen that nearly the whole has come from this country.

DEATH.—On Thursday night one of the peons in charge of the carts at the calle Defensa killed another and succeeded in escaping; the dying man would not declare the name of the assassin although urged repeatedly to do so.

MORON.—A very important sale of lands is to take place at this pleasant locality to-day. A train will start at 10 A. M. from the Parque station.

A sale of property will also take place at Belgrano.

BELLICOSE SCHOOL-MASTER.—The individual who teaches the young idea how to shoot, at Caballito, entered our office yesterday with Son Varela, asking the insertion of some impertinent effusion of his rural genius As his partner, Mr. Junor, had already published an explanation why no History or Christian Doctrine figured in the examination report, we declined any further trouble with the remarkable Caballito seminary and its appropriate head. We had however the unbridled insolence to accost us in calle Florida, and until we threatened to send him to the Policia, he continued in an eloquent strain of insults. No doubt Sor. Varela was vexed about the report of Hector's exclusion from court, and hence the secret of the strange visit of these worthies.

On Change.

April 11.

Ounces opened and closed at 428 1/2 which shows a fall of one dollar and a half from yesterday. The fluctuation to day was very slight unless some persons on account of previous transactions falling due today. 8895 sold for cash.

300 for Monday at 429 to 28 1/2.
5492 for Wednesday at 427 to 28 1/2.
900 for Saturday at 427 to 28.
1620 for April at 428.
500 for 1st May at 427 1/2.
Total sales 17,737 ounces and 3300 hard dollars at 26-75.

In the phazes and deposits the following sales were effected to day, there has been less animation than the three days past in which over 40 contracts have been disposed of principally for Germany and England and something for France.

Wool 1600 arrobas fine mestizo at 85; 2000 do at 82; 1000 mixed do at 67; 550 do at 63; 250 do at 58; 200 do borrego 66; 250 do at 60; 750 do at 55

In the Bolsa we notice the following transactions.

2900 on Corrientes wool 23 1/2.
1000 salted cow hides 73 rls.
800 dry Paraguay barqueno do 46 rls.
3000 fine mestizo sheep 8 45.

Exchange we have had continues firm at 68 shills, transactions limited and the total amount drawn up to the present cannot be estimated at over 2,000,000.

The British brig Aguila has been chartered to load salted hides tallow at Fray Bentos for England for orders at 50 shillings 5 per cent.

We hear that Mr. James C. Thompson has presented his resignation as member of the British Committee for the Cordova railway and that Mr. Henry Tomkinson has been appointed instead, The Committee intend by filling its task collectively but they have not yet commenced.

From Montevideo our correspondent informs us of the charter of the Italian barque Principio, to load for Liverpool direct salted hides and tallow and 5 per cent, and the gross return for sales of salt ad cord had taken place.

There was less animation than usual in the produce business to-day, probably on account of the proximate departure of the French mail: our usual packet edition will appear on Tuesday morning.

We hear that the works of the Western Railway will be commenced immediately under the direction of Mr Pringle or Mr. Otto Aiming, although the whole sectional plan has not been decided upon by the Government, it being left to decide afterwards whether it will pass by Lujan or otherwise.

Besides these, the following sales were effected yesterday—

9000 ar wool, mixed		66½
2000 lbs matted ost. feathers	40
6300 dry mut. Paraq. hides	40 rls
1000 do camp do	40 „

The French barque Marie et Louise has been placed on the berth for Havre and the Belgian brig Cesar for Antwerp

Amber Teeth Setting.
156—Calle Cuyo—156
harles E. Krause sets teeth by a new intention, amber, which is found superior to every other mode. It accommodates itself to the gums and palate much better than gold, which requires springs. A set of teeth in amber, after two days, serves for mastication, speaking and lasts a life time.
My collection of artificial teeth is very large, and can be distinguished from a natural set. I will also clean teeth with great care.
I have a number of instrument for extracting stumps of roots, also for stuffing the same with gold, silver, &c., which I guarantee for a number of years.
